Seed Science and Technology (SST) is one of the leading international journals featuring original papers and review articles on seed quality and physiology as related to seed production, harvest, processing, sampling, storage, distribution and testing. This widely recognised journal is designed to meet the needs of researchers, advisers and all those involved in the improvement and technical control of seed quality.

SST is published by the International Seed Testing Association in three issues per volume and year with approximately 800 pages. The journal was launched in 1973 as a replacement of the Proceedings of the International Seed Testing Association, which was first issued in 1921.

SST is available as a print or online subscription. An online subscription is included with ISTA membership. Subscription information is accessible online at
