

Galeopsis tetrahit* L. (Lamiaceae)

Achene (nutlet)

General shape: pyriform

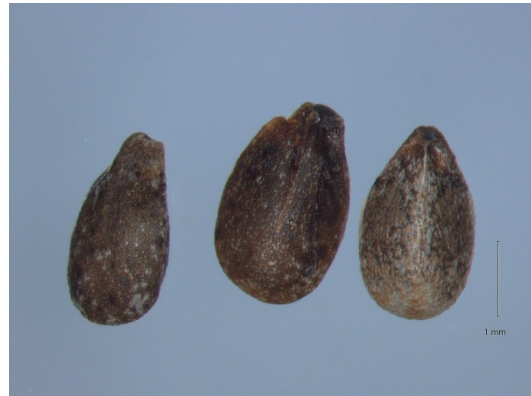

Normal size: 3.0-3.5 mm L x 2.0-2.5 mm
W x 1.5 mm D

Color: brown with dark mottling

Texture: dull

Distinguishing features: Achene (nutlet) convex on dorsal side and bluntly keeled on ventral side. Base tapering, upper third broad and semicircular. The attaching scar is rounded.

Embryo: embryo well differentiated. Embryo straight spatulate located at the base of the nutlet. Cotyledons flat.

Seeds of Galeopsis tetrahit

Seeds under magnification

Images by SNES-GEVES